Catch pop soloist Amie Fuller playing at a venue near you!

Amie Fuller released her debut EP 'Little Me' in November last year and has since then been performing and working on new material ready to share with you in the coming month.

Upcoming Shows include:

- Tuesday 22/March @ Cafe 1001, 91 Brick Lane, London
- Thursday 24/March @ The Church, (O'Neills), 87 Muswell Hill Broadway, London
- Monday 28/March @ The Alice, 133 Houndsditch, London
- Wednesday 13/April @ The Blueberry, 2-4 Paul Street, Shoreditch, London

Amie Fuller is a pop soloist from London who has spent the past year writing, recording and performing original material in the lead up to her EP release on the 22nd November 2015.

The EP is available on iTunes and Spotify where it has been proved, other than the UK, Fuller has had a major following from streamers in Norway and Germany.

A lover of performing arts and passionate songwriter, it was only a matter of time before we heard more from Amie Fuller and what she has to offer musically. Her catching melodies and clever songwriting proves she is one to watch and we will expect to hear more from Amie in 2016.
